GROVETON PUBLIC LIBRARY REPORT—1973

This is a report of the work and activities that have taken place at the library during the past year.

The weekly schedule that the library was opened to the public is maintained throughout the year, Monday through Friday; except for legal holidays. Afternoon hours: two thirty until four thirty and evening hours: six thirty until eight thirty.

Eighty seven new patrons signed registration cards; including summer visitors who may or may not return next year. One "Inter Library Loan Card" was also issued.

Fifty seven special requests for books were sent in to the State Library in Concord, N.H. and through the "Inter Library Loan System," every request was filled if that book was available in any New Hampshire library. Patrons requesting special books leave a deposit of ten cents for return postage to the lending library.

In our own library, new books are constantly being purchased for adults and juveniles in all categories; fiction and non-fiction plus reference materials. Old books are weeded out and sold for a nominal price to make shelf space for new, up to date material.

The Book Mobile call three or four times a year with N.H. State Library books to loan and we are allowed to take all that we can find shelf space for. This is a very useful service but one we may have to do without in the future. Since President Nixon cut off all federal aid to libraries early last year, many plans for expanding services have been dropped; and some of the existing programs may have to be—the Book Mobile service may very well be one of these.

In July, the librarian received her certificate for completing eight courses in the "Public Library Techniques Program," given at the University of New Hampshire during the summer session. This took part of four summers. This program is open to anyone in the six New England States who wishes to learn how to work in public libraries. Those completing the courses and receiving a certificate are called "Para-Professionals."

The librarian is a member of the N.H. Library Trustees Association and subscribes to the "Library Journal" in order to keep up with the latest trends in library work and services, to use the best methods of providing such services as it is possible to do in a small library.

The library staff consists of one full time Librarian and an assistant librarian who is in full charge of the library during the absence of the librarian. Hopefully in the near future, a library Page too, will work one evening per week helping with routine duties.

The librarian attended several book meetings held in the Northern District; Mr. Ralph Riley, Northern District Councilor was chairman of these meetings. She also attended an all-day meeting at the N.H. State Library. These meetings are both informative and educational in scope.

In the Fall, the Board of Trustees and the librarian collaborated and formulated a "Book Policy." It includes the "Freedom to Read" Statement and adheres to the "Library Bill of Rights" and the Public Library Standards. The Book Policy is a declaration of the principals of the library's standards in building the book collection.

The Groveton Public Library hosted a Film Demonstration meeting in August. Miss Joan Donovan, of the N.H. State Library Audio-Visual Dept., demonstrated various types of film projectors and showed new films. Films are on loan to librarians on request, to use for programs or group entertainment. No money may be charged to view the films. Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire State Libraries have formed a film cooperative to supply films in all three states on a rotating basis and loaned to libraries only.

From time to time displays are set up in the library to honor a special day or event, there have been five this year. In October for example: a large display was arranged to emphasize "Employ the Handicapped Week." We had a "Talking Book Machine," and Book records, many pieces of literature and photographs of handicapped people at work; plus a fine write up in the Groveton News. We hope that it made some people stop and think about the difficulties of the handicapped person in finding and holding a job.

Besides the large collection of books, there are many current magazines for adults and children, on one week loan. A collection of musical records from great Classical music through Country and Western style and all that is in between. Somewhere there is "Your Song," come in and look for it.

There is very good cooperation with the school libraries, realizing that all of us are doing the same thing, imparting knowledge and information to persons who need or want it.

Gifts to the library: Books old and new; a live and growing Hawaiian Palm tree given by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bushey; labor donated by Hollis Crawford when he made a display case.

Plans are laid to expand library service in more areas in the future beginning with a "Once a month" story hour for pre-schoolers of four and five years old.

We thoroughly enjoy every patron who uses the library and we try to be as helpful as possible to supply their needs.

We sincerely invite Groveton people to come in and see what your tax dollars are buying for you in the areas of information, knowledge, entertainment, self-education or relaxation. You will find a very clean, attractive room and a quiet pleasant atmosphere with wonderful reading materials.

May I be allowed to take this opportunity to thank the Board of Trustees for their advice and support and Mrs. Helen Carver for her helpfulness during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

GERALDINE CRAWFORD
Librarian

THE NORTH COUNTRY COUNCIL: WHAT IT IS, HOW IT WORKS, WHO CAN JOIN

Articles of agreement creating the North Country Council were filed with the Secretary of State on July 12, 1973. On July 18 the Council held its organizational meeting in Franconia. At that meeting by-laws were adopted and officers were elected. A request for recognition by the State as the regional planning commission for Region I also was authorized, filed and approved.

Why a North Country Council?

The meeting in Franconia was both an end and a beginning: it brought to a successful conclusion seven months of work by the North Country Advisory Council—citizens representing local governments in the region—assisted by the State Office of Comprehensive Planning; it also was a beginning, with the formation of a representative organization having responsibility for: preparing a coordinated, comprehensive plan for the region, working with and advising local governments on development problems, coordinating with state and federal agencies, and assisting in the solution of problems which transcend local political boundaries.

In developing policy and action guidance for the region, the Council will rely heavily on available information, update it where necessary, and supplement it with new data on problems not yet fully examined. The Council will hire a staff to carry out its directives, prepare a regional development plan, and provide technical assistance to municipalities and counties in the region.

What is a Region?

A region is a group of communities within a given geographic area which share interdependent needs and services. In many cases citizens already recognize this and know of advantages to be gained through cooperation—such as ambulance and fire department mutual aid, education, solid waste, and utilities. North Country communities share many common interests and objectives, a common environment, a labor market made mobile through the network of highways, and problems which often involve cooperative planning and action for their solution.

How It Works

The North Country Council does not usurp local power nor take away local prerogatives. Local governments themselves, working together, establish the regional program. However, regional planning does provide a foundation to aid local officials in making decisions about the future of their communities. It provides an opportunity for local planning boards, conservation commissions, and elected officials to coordinate efforts and resolve conflicts in local plans with greater understanding. Regional assets may be more fully identified and utilized. Technical services by the Council staff also will enable local planning boards and elected officials to obtain professional help, when they want it. This can include preparation or revision of zoning and subdivision regulations, mapping, selecting sites for public facilities, reviewing development proposals, preparing applications for state and federal funds and advice on a variety of other problems faced by local officials.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Last Spring Supervisory Union #58 received approval for an Operational Contract from the Experimental Schools Program in Washington, D.C. This project was for three years with a yearly operational budget of approximately $110,000. At the end of the three year period it may be extended for two additional years for a total of five years. The project is involved in working in the following areas (1) Language Arts—to develop a sequential and integrated curriculum grades K-12. (2) Vocational—Career Education—To provide vocational experiences and opportunities for students and to develop a Career Education guide K-12 to make students more aware of the career and job opportunities open to them. (3) Outdoor Education—to develop a site to provide opportunities to study the interrelationships existent between human and natural components of the community. This will include hiking, camping, field trips, and relating these experiences to classroom activities. (4) Adult Education — provide tuition free courses for adults in subjects and areas of their choice. (5) Psychological Services — Inservice training and workshops for the staff to help them understand and meet the needs of their students.

The school plant planning committee was re-organized and has been working to have a warrant article ready for the annual district meeting. It was their recommendation to develop plans for a new K-8 school building, as well as an addition and renovations at the high school. Several alternatives were discussed and investigated but it was the wish of the committee and school board to make one complete proposal to meet all the needs. There will be a separate hearing and information available to all the citizens before the meeting.

Our union is continuing to share the services of the North Country Education Services Organization with increased use of the Multi-Media materials, Audio-Visual equipment repair and purchase, and the speech program.

We are continuing to make real progress with those students who have special needs, such as those with learning disabilities, speech problems and general learning difficulties. Five children attend the School for Exceptional Children in Berlin, others receive individual or small group tutoring in their respective school. A course, funded by N.H. Vocational Rehabilitation was provided to our staff with a focus on the understanding and the instruction of children with special educational needs. The schools have also been receiving increased service from the Upper Connecticut Valley Mental Health Agency for psychological testing and consultation.

The past year has seen some important steps in strengthening the elementary school curriculum and services in order to provide a broad and well-balanced program for the children at Groveton Elementary School.

The main emphasis in curriculum evaluation and revision was in the area of language arts. Our kindergarten program started a new reading readiness program; Grade I continued for the second year working in a regular basic reading series; Grade II to IV implemented new individualized reading programs and materials; Grade V and VI replaced the English series with new basic text books and materials.

New social studies text books and materials were added to the upper elementary grades. During 1973-74 the staff evaluated the present mathematics program. The staff will begin a revision of our present reporting system with a new report card and greater emphasis on parent-teacher conferences.

To assist in all programs and areas of the curriculum we have continued to borrow media materials such as filmstrips, tapes, movies, transparencies, film loops, etc., from the Multi-Media Service. North Country Education Services also provided our school district with the services of a speech therapist, Mrs. Ellen Shirley.

In the past two years we have implemented new programs and services on a shared basis with other schools in Supervisory Union 58. The shared programs are music, art, and special education. Our Title I program has continued with a language development program for children in the primary grades.

Mrs. Kathy Upham was our school nurse and was available to the Groveton schools on a daily basis to provide health services and programs.

Groveton Elementary School also participated in programs from the Experimental School Project. The programs included workshops and curriculum work in language arts and career education. Through the Experimental School Project our school received additional psychological services from the Upper Connecticut Valley Mental Health Service.

Our programs generally are functioning very well, however, we do have some shortcomings in our facilities. We still have three regular classrooms, special education programs and remedial reading located in outside rented rooms at St. Francis and the Methodist Church. Our physical education program is inadequate because of the limited outside playground space and lack of a gym. We would like to improve and enlarge our present library-resource area. Our present cafeteria serving space is inadequate for the number of pupils that we serve each day. (An average of 375-400 hot meals a day for Grade I to XII.)

The enrollment grades 7-12 is now 413. This increase in enrollment is causing serious space problems and it is difficult to operate a varied and comprehensive program with these limitations.

The system of course electives is still undergoing adjustments. Freshmen and sophomores are now required to take a more structured English Composition Course. The total language arts program is being examined and, with the aid of Mr. Mosher, we hope to develop a sequential and integrated program K-12.

The cooperative business education program is functioning very well and with the addition of a part time staff member we have been able to expand the program. The "office simulation" program has proven to be a great success and plans are being made to make it a full year double period experience. This program offers the opportunity to sharpen and expand basic integrated business skills. The organization of activities is arranged as close as possible to resemble an actual business operation.

Twelve junior boys are attending Berlin High School each afternoon and are enrolled in either the vocational automotive repair or welding program. Their academic subjects are taken here in Groveton and they are still able to participate in Groveton activities. Plans are being made to expand these opportunities to other vocational areas.

The Supervisory Union Office has been moved to 12 Main Street and the move has worked out well. The new office provides much more space and is more accessible for everyone. It is now possible to hold small meetings and conferences at the office.

I personally would like to take this opportunity to thank the school, the staff, and the citizens of Northumberland for the excellent cooperation and support which we have received during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

ALAN E. RICH
Superintendent of Schools

SUMMARY PROGRAM OF THE WHITE MOUNTAINS REGION ASSOCIATION

Your Region Association, through its promotional and financial responsibilities, was one of the principal organizers of the White Mountains Art and Music Festival. This Festival has been acclaimed as a truly significant contribution to northern New Hampshire and in 1974, with a much larger budget, the program is expected to expand markedly.

Your Region Association also helped to set up the Hotel-Motel training program at the Waumbek, Jefferson, N.H. Because your Association has for many years promoted the region's hotel-motel industry, the directors felt this training program would effectively compliment these on-going promotional activities. The responsibilities incurred by your Association were: a questionnaire designed to answer "Is there a need for the program" and assistance in employing graduates of the program in the region's hotel-motel industry. Additionally, your Association set up meetings with hotel-motel owners and managers to work out any problems and to exchange ideas.

Other activities for 1973 included: completion of a canoe and kayak folder (designed for promotional purposes), a State requested survey of flood damage to the private sector of northern New Hampshire's economy, representation at the Eastern State Exposition in Springfield, Mass., presentation of 4-H awards in Grafton and Coos Counties and annual subscriptions of the 4-H National News Magazine to club leaders, and the annual solicitations of listings for the New Hampshire Accommodations and Dining Directory and the Where to Stay folder. Additionally, your Association's executive director acted as secretary of the N.H. Council of Region Associations, an organization which works closely with the State's Office of Vacation Travel.

Your Association for its 1973 annual meeting set up a panel discussion on the subject of "Wilderness in the White Mountain National Forest." Panelists included representatives of the N.H. Snowmobile Association, the Appalachian Mountain Club, the Society for the Protection of N.H. Forests, Sno-engineering, the wood products industry in northern New Hampshire, the Sierra Club, the State's Bureau of Off-Highway Recreation Vehicles, the U.S. Forest Service and the North Country RC&D Project, Inc.

With regard to legislated matters your Association supported House Bill relative to Open Space. In large part the directors saw this bill as an attempt to help preserve our farmlands here in the region. Furthermore, your Association supported House Bill #10 relative to Off-Highway Vehicles with the exception that the majority of directors felt snowmobilers should ask the permission of the land-owners during periods when there is adequate snow cover.

Finally, the executive director spoke on Association activities both on radio and before several chambers of commerce and rotary clubs in the region.

Inquiries for the year totaled 5,000.

Wrote 27 news releases, 2 newsletters and 140 personal letters.
